

What is backrolling and when should this technique be used?

Back rolling is going back over surfaces that have been spray-painted to close pinholes or ensure evenness. Backrolling also ensures that the paint will touch up.