

Elastomeric coatings are uniquely formulated to stretch and bridge cracks that may form due to movement that can occur despite the hardness and strength of stucco. In addition, elastomeric wall coatings can prevent water intrusion by literally shrink-wrapping your building. Any home that has been remodeled or had windows replaced is a likely candidate for elastomeric coatings.